The Apple Watch Ultra 2 takes the rugged smartwatch concept to new heights, blending durability, performance, and advanced features into a premium package. It is designed for outdoor enthusiasts and extreme conditions. It has a strong titanium build and a sapphire crystal display to ensure it can handle the toughest environments. The Ultra 2 introduces the powerful S9 SiP chip, which enhances performance and efficiency, making interactions smoother and faster.

One standout feature is the new Modular Ultra watch face. It uses the upgraded display's brightness and modification options to provide critical data in a short time. Additionally, the double-tap gesture can control the watch more intuitive, even when you are busy. For adventurers, the Ultra 2 continues to deliver exceptional GPS accuracy, improve its depth sensors for divers, and improve its water resistance. The battery life which can last up to 36 hours on standard use (72 in low-power mode), remains a highlight.

However, its high price may not attract casual users who don't need its advanced features. While its fitness and health tracking are comprehensive, they're comparable to the standard Apple Watch Series 9. Overall, the Apple Watch Ultra 2 is a reliable and innovative companion for those who demand more from their smartwatch.

3. The text is intended to
- A. advertise a smartwatch
 - B. describe the Apple Watch Ultra 2
 - C. explain how the Apple Watch Ultra 2 works
 - D. review a smartwatch called Apple Watch Ultra 2

In 2007, my town was struck by a devastating earthquake. The ground shook violently, leaving buildings in ruins and people in panic. It was a terrifying experience, but it also became one of the most inspiring moments of my life. I learned the importance of empathy and resilience.

When the earthquake stopped, I found myself in the middle of chaos. People were crying, and many homes had been destroyed. Instead of feeling powerless, I decided to act. I joined a group of volunteers to help those in need. Our first task was to search for survivors and assist families in evacuating to a nearby emergency shelter.

A mother with two small children stood out to me. Their house had completely collapsed, and they had lost everything. I gave them some water and food, and then I helped them find a safe space in the shelter. I cried seeing their relief when they realized they were safe.

Over the next few days, I helped distribute food, set up tents, and comfort those who had lost their homes. Despite the destruction around us, I saw how people came together to support one another. That was really made me touched.

This experience taught me that even in the face of disaster, kindness and cooperation can bring hope. Helping others during the earthquake was physically and emotionally challenging, but it made me realize the importance of stepping up during difficult times.

5. The text is about the writer's experience on
- A. helping a mother with two small children
 - B. serving people in his/ her town in 2007
 - C. assisting others during an earthquake
 - D. facilitating the victims of a disasters

Why Teenagers Should Care About Healthy Food

Teenagers today are starting to care more about eating healthy food. This is a good thing because healthy food helps them grow, stay strong, and feel good. Eating the right food is very important for teenagers because they are growing and need energy for school, sports, and other activities.

There are many reasons why teenagers care more about eating healthy food. One reason is social media. They see videos about cooking healthy meals or tips about staying fit. Another reason is that they want to feel good, look good, and have more energy. Schools and families also talk about eating healthy, so many teenagers are learning more about it.

Although teenagers want to eat healthy food, it's not always easy. Fast food is everywhere, and sometimes it's cheaper and faster to eat unhealthy snacks. Some teenagers also live in places where it's hard to find fresh fruits and vegetables. Busy schedules, like school and after-school activities, also make it harder to eat healthy meals.

Teenagers can eat healthier by starting small things. They can add more fruits or vegetables to their meals or drink more water instead of soda. Parents can help by cooking healthy meals at home. Schools can also give healthier food options in the canteen.

It can be said that teenagers should care about healthy food because it helps them feel better, grow stronger, and live a healthier life. Even though it can be hard sometimes, small changes can make a big difference. Eating healthy is a smart choice for a happy future!

10. The intention of writing the text is to make teenagers
- A. realize that healthy food is out of date
 - B. know that they need healthy food to live better

Simple Roasted Salmon with Lemon and Herbs

Here's what you will need:

- Salmon fillet. This method works for either a full fillet or slices
- 1 whole lemon
- Fresh herbs such as dill, chives, thyme and/or rosemary. There's no wrong choice!
Use what you have or like
- Olive oil. You can also use avocado oil
- Salt and black pepper

How to Cook Salmon

1. Check for bones: Gently rub your fingers over the salmon to feel for any tiny bones. If you find any, use kitchen tweezers to carefully pull them out.
2. Get ready to bake: Place the salmon on a piece of baking paper on a baking tray.
3. Add yummy toppings for better taste of the salmon:
 - Drizzle with olive oil.
 - Add slices of lemon on top.
 - Sprinkle with chopped herbs (like dill or parsley).
 - Add salt and pepper.
4. Bake it! Put the salmon in the oven at 375 degrees. Bake it until it's cooked thoroughly. This might take some time, depending on how thick the salmon is.
5. Enjoy! Once the salmon is done, squeeze the juice from the leftover lemon slices over it. Serve it right away!

15. The text is written to
- A. explain the way to enhance the flavour of salmon
 - B. tell the way to make simple roasted salmon
 - C. describe the healthy food made of salmon
 - D. share the process of steaming salmon

Three young brothers lived with their elderly father, who was often ill. The old man knew that he was not going to live for long, then he divided his assets among his sons. Kirno received a buffalo, Beno got a plough, and Gito received a bag of rice seeds. Then the father said, "A bird that flies solo will never find its flock. Always help each other."

After their father's passing, Kirno and Beno sold their inheritance and wasted the money on unnecessary things. They left Gito alone. Meanwhile, Gito worked tirelessly as a farmer, borrowing a plough from a neighbour. Within seven years, Gito became a successful farmer.

One day, while shopping for farming equipment, Gito met two beggars, one of whom was trying to steal his wallet. To his surprise, they were Kirno and Beno. Gito welcomed them warmly and invited them to live with him. Gito said, "A family is like a forest, when you are together, you are stronger. Let's start anew." Overcome with shame, Kirno and Beno realized their past mistakes and were grateful for Gito's kindness. From then on, the three brothers worked together, and their farm flourished.

17. By reading the story, we can learn that
- A. honesty bring happiness
 - B. hard work leads to success
 - C. jealousy leads to family conflict
 - D. wasting money leads to problems

Hall of Fame By : will.i.am
... You can go the distance, you can run a mile You can walk straight through hell with a smile You can be a hero, you can get the gold Breaking all the records they thought would never be broke Yeah, do it for your people, do it for your pride Are you ever gonna know if you never even try? Do it for your country, do it for your name 'Cause there's gonna be a day when you're Standing in the Hall of Fame And the world's gonna know your name 'Cause you burn with the brightest flame And the world's gonna know your name And you'll be on the walls of the Hall of Fame	You'll be on the walls of the Hall of Fame Be students, be teachers Be politicians, be preachers, yeah (yeah) Be believers, be leaders Be astronauts, be champions Be truth seekers Be students, be teachers Be politicians, be preachers, yeah (yeah) Be believers, be leaders Be astronauts, be champions ...

24. The song teaches us that we should
- become astronauts or politicians to gain fame
